GOV. COX IS NOMINATED ON 44TH BALLOT

COX WAS NAMED BY WET VOTES IN THE CONVENTION

OLD CROWD OF BOSSSES
WON FIGHT FOR OHIO
MAN.

WEAK IN WEST
Wilson's Defeat in Candidate
May Divide Ranks into East Against West.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1920, by the Janesville
Gazette.

San Francisco, July 6.—Divided against itself no house stands. Gov. Cox is triumphant, Palmer is beaten. McAdoo's forces fall the bones of Wilson in the great battle between the old democratic organizations which took sweet revenge in 1920 by eliminating two members of President Wilson's administration, Attorney General Palmer and former director of the Treasury McAdoo, and nominating a candidate who has not been identified with the federal administration in the last eight years and who will therefore not inherit as much of the resentment against the Wilson cause as the other two might have before the electoral next autumn. It was within the power of the Wilson administration to nominate either Palmer or McAdoo or someone else who had been a part of the president's official family.

Cox Is Wilson Man

Cox isn't anti-Wilson. As a matter of fact the president has always had a high admiration for the Ohio governor and has praised the record of Governor Cox as a progressive. There is absolutely no doubt that the president will help him in the nomination. By written statements if that is deemed advisable. It may not help Cox in the east to have the stamp of Wilson's approval, but that will be somewhat offset there by the approval of the regular democratic organization. But in the west, unless Woodrow Wilson says Cox is a progressive and commands Cox to the electorate, the west will not warm up to Cox. The present inclination of the west is to go republican anyway, and it will go republican again. Wilson's influence to make Cox known in the western states, let alone make him a strong candidate.

Weak Poor Leaders

Palmer and McAdoo suffered from poor leadership and inexperience managing. A coalition of Palmer and McAdoo forces early in the convention would have defeated Cox. When Palmer released his delegates the moment for such a coalition had passed. The convention had grown so weary that the Cox managers knew they had but to hold out and win their battle on the basis of a fatigued body of delegates. That the McAdoo and Palmer men are unhappy. The defeated always feel that way.

"We'll beat Harding in Ohio if you give us Cox," was the retort of the men who had been beaten by Cox. The Cox forces were swept off their feet in the last 10 ballots by superior strategy. Ed. Moore, of Ohio, and manager of Cox, had the assistance of such astute politicians as Charles Murphy of New York, Jim Nugent of New Jersey, and George Brennan of Illinois.

Those anti-Wilson forces won a victory of Wilson people. There is no doubt that they stood for Wilson and the League of Nations on platform questions, but they nominated a man who doesn't concur with the same antagonism to the old line Democrats that a Wilson man would have.

Must Line Up the West

The first task of Gov. Cox is to bring into line for himself the western democrats which fought so valiantly for McAdoo. The main trouble will be the prohibition question.

Gov. Cox himself has written articles before this convention calling Cox the "Candidate of the Wets" and the women of the west are not inclined to vote for their candidate especially if they are the ones to be blamed.

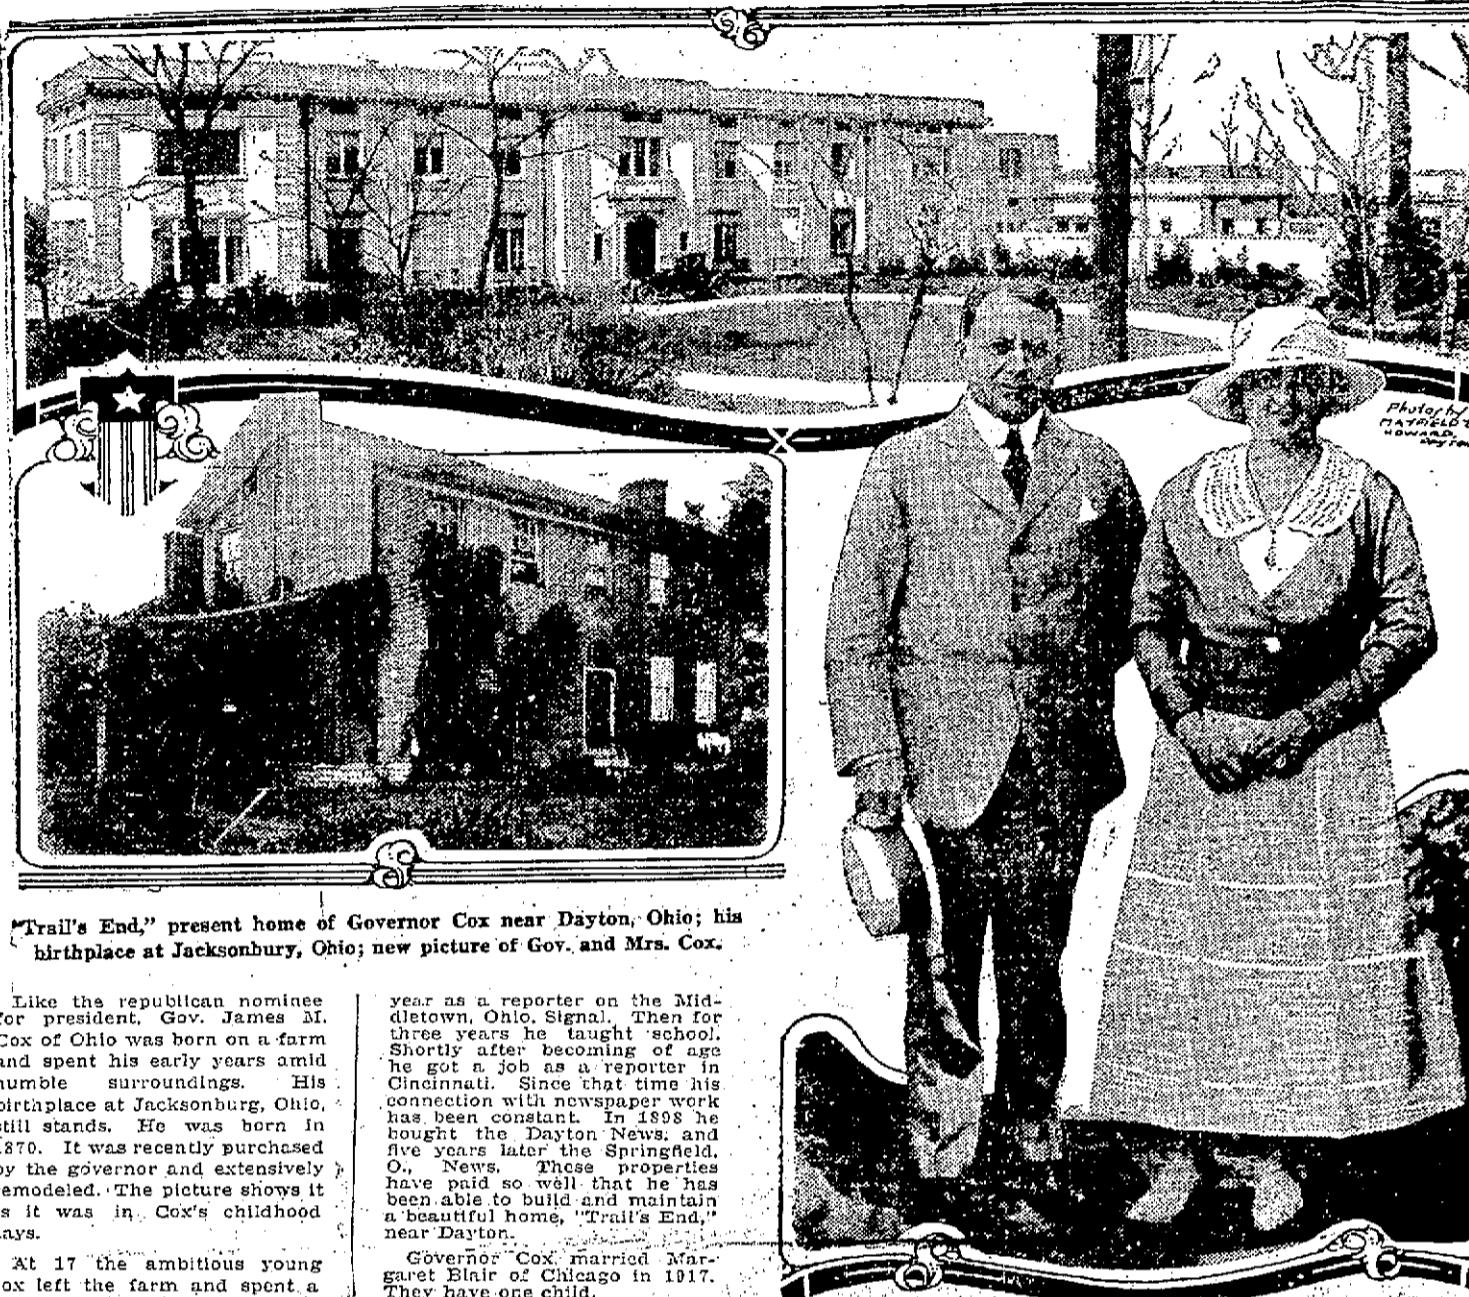

Gov. Cox's statement of the case, the only question involved in prohibition was one of law enforcement, will in all probability be the line he will take during the campaign inasmuch as the national platform does not mention that subject. But it will take a good deal more than that to carry conviction.

Gov. Cox, His Wife, Birthplace and Present Home

"Trail's End," present home of Governor Cox near Dayton, Ohio; his birthplace at Jacksonburg, Ohio; new picture of Gov. and Mrs. Cox.

Like the republican nominee for president, Gov. James M. Cox of Ohio was born on a farm and spent his early years amid humble surroundings. His birthplace at Jacksonburg, Ohio, still stands. He was born in 1870. It was recently purchased by the governor and extensively remodeled. The picture shows it as it was in Cox's childhood days.

At 17 the ambitious young Cox left the farm and spent a year as a reporter on the Middletown, Ohio, Signal. Then for three years he taught school. Shortly after becoming 20 he got a job as a reporter in Cincinnati. Since that time his connection with newspaper work has been constant. In 1898 he bought the Dayton News, and five years later the Springfield, Ohio, News. These enterprises have paid so well that he has been able to build and maintain a beautiful home, "Trail's End," near Dayton.

Governor Cox married Margaret Blair of Chicago in 1917. They have one child.

FIRE THREATENS OCOMBOMOWOC

Dozen Buildings Burned, Whole City Is in Danger of Destruction.

Oconomowoc, July 5.—A dozen buildings and $50,000 worth of coal and coke were destroyed by fire early today. The flames for the first time threatening to wipe out the entire city. The fire started in the sheds of the Oconomowoc Lumber company. The buildings and the entire block of lumber were wiped out.

The large coal shed with thousands of tons of coal also were destroyed. Several smaller establishments then were destroyed. Three horses died in the flames when a barn owned by the lumber company burned.

The following properties were destroyed: the lumber company, the company, Ellis Otto, contractor; Welsh garage; Burnden garage; Hurlings Dairy company; and three smaller buildings.

The fire at 11 o'clock was still burning. No exact estimate of the damage could be made at this time.

HARDING AT HOME DEVOTES TIME TO PREPARING SPEECH

(By Associated Press.)

Marion, Ohio, July 6.—Senator Harding, the republican presidential nominee, in a statement today said Gov. Cox deserved the democratic presidential nomination, but added that his selection would not change the republican campaign plans in Ohio in any way.

Senator Harding had no engagement to speak at Marion today. He planned to devote himself exclusively to clearing away a great mass of correspondence and other work that had accumulated since he left Washington last Saturday to motor home.

Despite a strenuous day through which he passed yesterday in connection with the welcoming celebration in Marion, he returned home, having been up early and resumed his work with enthusiasm.

During the next few days Senator Harding plans to devote much of his time to the quietude of his residence for the youngest of the oldest of his speechless acquaintances. Since his program was opened at 10:30 by Pastor Smith, Footville, with a reading of the Declaration of Independence, R. T. Glasco, editor of the Marion Bureau in Rock county, and George E. Fisher, and Martin C. Palmer in charge.

PALMER RELEASE DISLODGES JAM

Attorney General's Withdrawal
On 38th Ballot Swings Votes.

San Francisco, July 6.—The release of Attorney General Palmer's delegates after the 38th ballot dislodged the logjam, although for a time it appeared that the deadlock between McAdoo and Cox would continue indefinitely.

With 211 Palmer delegates on the 35th ballot, McAdoo gained 34 votes on the 36th ballot and 66 with one Louisiana and 73 Pennsylvania delegates staying by the attorney general. On that call McAdoo made his principal gain in taking Georgia's 22 votes from Palmer column while Cox gained 13 from Massachusetts, leaving him 23 of her 36 while others scattering from other Palmer sources. On the next, the 40th, Cox climbed from 468½ to 490 and McAdoo from 440 to 467 while Palmer divined his 18 steady from his home state and the one remaining, McAdoo held the George block for that and the succeeding ballot also. But Cox scooped up scattering delegates from the McAdoo column from Illinois, Washington, and other spots on the McAdoo organization. Both sides watched again for Tennessee to swing her 23 votes from Davis.

Slight Gain on 41st.

The 41st ballot showed a net gain of 7 votes and one half for Cox and a loss of 7 for McAdoo with both taking more Pennsylvania. In the first break of Pennsylvania from Palmer, McAdoo got 42 to Cox's 12, but both got a few more later.

Both leaders were under the 500 mark on the 41st ballot at midnight with each simple majority in other's camp and the Davis voters holding fast. On the succeeding ballot Cox made his first big gain which portended the finale. Closing with 497½ votes on the 41st, Cox rose on the next to 540 and only lost 18 when a majority of the delegation while McAdoo slipped from 460 to 427. The Georgia started the slide toward Cox by swinging 23 from McAdoo. Cox picked up more scattering votes including four Davis delegates in Michigan.

McAdoo and Pennsylvania.

McAdoo still held the bulk of the Pennsylvanians. Cox shot 20 over a majority on the 42d ballot, getting 568 as against 540½ of the previous roll. McAdoo dropped to 412 on the 43d going from 417 to 412. Cox's principal gains were a solid vote from Georgia taking a half dozen from McAdoo and 10½ from Virginia which previously had returned to Senator Glass. On that ballot also Cox drew away numerous scattering votes from McAdoo.

The 44th began at 1:15. Almost at the start Cox began taking single and double votes from the McAdoo delegations. The real break up developed when three Florida delegates which had stood fast for McAdoo for many hours, swung over and gave Cox a solid 12. Cox held Georgia intact, gained four more Illinoisans from McAdoo and then Tom Taggart announced a solid block of 30 from Indiana for Cox taking 10 from McAdoo. Kentucky likewise gave up 3 McAdoo votes and made it 28 solid for Cox. Gains More.

Maryland followed giving McAdoo 54 and Cox 8½. Massachusetts then rolled up 25 of her 38 votes to Cox who also gained six more from Missouri while McAdoo got 10 which had been enrolling for McAdoo for many ballots, swinging over and gave Cox a solid 12. Cox held Georgia intact, gained four more Illinoisans from McAdoo and then Tom Taggart announced a solid block of 30 from Indiana for Cox taking 10 from McAdoo. Kentucky likewise gave up 3 McAdoo votes and made it 28 solid for Cox. Gains More.

Two States Pass.

Awaiting a call after the territories were Maryland and Michigan which had passed to the right to watch the results of the final ballot.

With the Cox tide in flood the Colorado change was announced and the long battle ended with the adopted motion for unanimous choice.

The West Virginia's 12 steady fast for Cox during the entire battle, also the seven of Oklahomans instructed for Owen and 9 Nebraskans controlled by Bryan and voting almost from the line for Owen never wavered.

IRISH OFFICIALS ARE ENEMIES OF GOVERNMENT

INT. ASSOCIATED PRESS.

DUBLIN.—The net results of the recent county council elections is that now both in the cities and in the counties in 23 out of 28 counties the local government is in direct hostility to the central government.

The first conflict between them will come out of the question of paying compensation for outrages. Every day the judges are awarding to the relatives of murdered policemen, to injured policemen, and to the owners of burned police premises large sums as compensation chargeable to the local government, but already run up close to £150,000.

The local authorities have refused to collect taxes for these payments. In the case of some of them the government can secure money by deduction from the sums paid to the local government by the imperial exchequer in relief of local taxes.

In the majority of cases the parties awarded compensation have only acquired a right to sue the local authorities in the courts for the money. It is believed that every local judge, every local authority, the local authorities will refuse to pay the money. Many of them have passed resolutions saying they will recognize no authority save that of Dublin.

The government has decided to introduce a bill in Parliament to enforce payment of this compensation money.

Moroco Phosphate

May Help France

INT. ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Paris.—Discovery of large deposits of phosphate in the Moroccan hinterland may soon make France the great phosphate producing country of the world.

The Moroccan deposits are reported as being almost inexhaustible. One hundred miles inland from Casablanca there is a mountain plateau 40 miles long and 25 miles wide which is a veritable storehouse of phosphate. A railway has been built to this mountain and a monopoly has been given to the Moroccan government for the sale of the phosphate.

France already has huge potash deposits in Alsace.

COX IS NOMINATED ON 44TH BALLOT AFTER LONG FIGHT

The struggle was waged in voting districts, the democratic annual meeting of which gave the president his first nomination on the 44th ballot.

The Cox forces scented victory right there. Again time was required to get a new roll call.

When Pennsylvania was reached the delegates for the roll call and the 22 ballots taken last night were shouting for Cox.

Fresh from an over Sunday stay at the annual meeting of the whole delegation another tumult, this time between the big McAdoo majority in the Pennsylvania ranks and Cox adherents. It showed he had outstripped McAdoo in the race for Palmer delegates and again reached a decision.

In just over a school inspection, Dr. W. C. L. Ladd, chairman, stated the teacher is the most essential factor. Without their cooperation, he says, the children cannot be protected. She does not need to understand or discuss a disease, in his opinion, but should be able to send home every pupil who shows any symptoms of beginning infectious disease.

White is possible for a man to love his neighbor as himself, it adds a good deal upon the age and sex of the neighbor aforesaid.

FEW CONTAGIOUS DISEASE CASES

Believed That This is Due to Schools Being Closed
During Summer.

Only one case of contagious disease, that scarlet fever, has been reported to Fred B. Welch, city health officer, during the past week. This record, he believes, is due to the fact that the schools are closed. Prior to the Commencement vacation period measles were prevalent in the city.

Effect of Schools

Dr. Welch declared that while the schools are in session there is more contagious disease in the community than during the summer. He bases his conclusion on his observation over other years as well as his present other years. With congegation of the pupils in the schools he explains it is natural that where any child is infected, the germs are liable to spread. With the constant growth of the city, he points out, many children carry diseases with them when they come from other towns.

Effect of Inspection

More stringent inspection of the children during the school year is a method he urges to prevent the spread of disease. While supervision was had during the past year, he believes that it should be applied in even greater vigor when the schools open again in the fall.

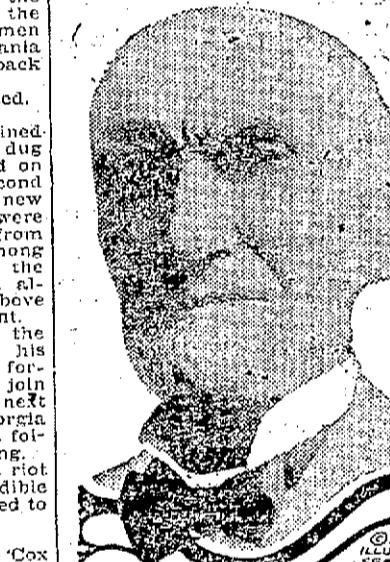

Before the schools are opened, he urges that a careful inspection be made of all the buildings as regards light and ventilation, and as soon as they open, all pupils should be given a rigid medical examination for physical and external defects, careful dental inspection by a dentist; and examination for the child's eyes for defects of vision. The results, he says, should be recorded on a card index system and the parents informed in writing of the presence of physical conditions requiring attention.

Present Doctor's Certificate

Another plan which he advocates is that each student before being permitted to attend classes upon return to school after the summer vacation be compelled to present a physician's certificate from the physician in just over a school inspection. Dr. W. C. L. Ladd, chairman, states that the teacher is the most essential factor. Without their cooperation, he says, the children cannot be protected. She does not need to understand or discuss a disease, in his opinion, but should be able to send home every pupil who shows any symptoms of beginning infectious disease.

White is possible for a man to love his neighbor as himself, it adds a good deal upon the age and sex of the neighbor aforesaid.

Release Sought for Dakota Man Accused of Brutal Murder

Bismarck, N. D.—A strong effort to obtain the release from the North Dakota penitentiary of Henry Layer, serving a life sentence for the murder of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Jacobson and their five babies, was made yesterday. Layer, on the Wolf farm near Turtleneck, N. D., seven weeks ago, was launched by relatives of Layer, who charge that he was "railroaded." Pending investigation, the payment of $1,000 offered by Governor Frazier and confessed to the murders. The man was forced to fix a picture of his victims, and the bodies of his wife, Jacob Jacobson, and their five babies were piled up, one of them that of Mrs. Wolf, being horribly mutilated by hogs. It was offered to the governor for the apprehension of the murderer, who is being withheld from the parties certified to the governor being entitled to the reward.

It is excellent. It shows Senator Harding's ability to get along with men, his propensity to seek the support and assistance of able advisers, his disinclination to force his views, and his willingness to let others do the work.

The next day Layer was taken before the district judge. He recounted in the court room, the story of the murders, saying that he had fought over a dog which had attacked Layer's cattle. Wolf had been shot in the back, and Layer had killed the dog.

CROOKED RACES STIR UP FRENCH

Chamber of Deputies Asked to Stop Bookmaking And High Betting.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Paris. So many queer looking races, (described outsiders) defeating illustrious horses, have been uncovered at the metropolitan tracks since the opening of the racing season that Baron Maurice de Rothschild himself, one of the largest owners in France, as well as deputy for Pau, has brought the matter to the attention of the French Chamber.

Baron de Rothschild has asked the Chamber to pass a law for the suppression of bookmaking in Paris. The largest cities in France, the books to be replaced by Part-mutual booths in the cities.

The French government receives 10 percent on all moneys taken in at the part-mutual booths at the various tracks. As the amount taken in the different tracks varies from $5,000,000 to $10,000,000 francs daily the French government derives from the racing industry a revenue of between $500,000 and 1,000,000 francs a day.

Baron de Rothschild said in the French Chamber that more money was bet with the books than in the Part-mutual, and that at the tracks, approximately 10,000,000 francs per day were wagered in the city alone. This is a net loss of 1,000,000 francs a day for the government. He charged that several races had been run with such flagrant corruption that racing had been adopted in England or America, the owners, trainers or jockeys could have been ruled off the turf for life.

It has been alleged that the bookmakers gather in all the clubs, bars, in the afternoon, and bet by accepting under what circumstances autre ou autre chose. This gives them ample time to journey to the race track and, if they find that they are overburdened on any one horse and stand to lose too much, to use a little persuasion on the jockey, plotting the animal.

Jockey Brethet has just been ruled off for life. He was up on Zizaline II, an overwhelming favorite with the public. He did not finish in the money and his bad riding was evident. He was an appetitive jockey, not an expert in the gentle art of jockeying, and the judges summoned him into the stand. He promptly admitted having pulled the horse but claimed not to be acquainted with the men who had made it worth his while to lose.

He was one of the last out of many which Baron de Rothschild says will kill racing in France unless the government takes stern measures for the suppression of bookmaking in Paris.

INVIDIOUS COMPARISON

Our little son was a frequent visitor of his aunt who lived in a large detached room house. He liked the place immensely, as we were then living in a small four-room apartment. One day as dinner time drew on his aunt told him that he must go home to dinner. Little Jamie was much displeased. Then his aunt told him that this was the first time that he had ever gone home to his mother. In a disgusted tone Jamie replied: "Why, that place there is only a simple exchange."

POISON THE HOPPERS TO PROTECT YOUR CROPS

Poison the grasshoppers—that is the only way to control them, say the entomologists at the Wisconsin experiment station.

Scatter a poisoned bran mush out in the fields early in the morning. It takes from 6 to 10 pounds to poison an acre. The poison bait may be made by taking 54 pounds of bran, alfalfa meal, or middlings, 2 pounds of parboiled green or white arsenic, 2 pounds of salt. Mix all these thoroughly. Take out a portion of the mixture, add water, and pour into a bucket of water. Stir the water into the bran and poison, adding more water until the bran becomes thoroughly moistened and crumbly. Scatter broadcast over the infected fields early in the morning while the dew is on the grass.

Reports coming to the College of Agriculture show that serious losses are being caused by the grasshoppers, especially in the sandy or light soil counties in the central part of the state.

RAILS LOSE STIFF FIGHT AT MONROE, 8-7

Wet grounds, causing a number of errors, helped defeat the Janesville team at Monroe yesterday 8 to 7. The battle was part of the city's Independence Day baseball.

Up till the fourth inning, the Rails were apparently hopeless, white-washed 7 to 0. Les Prie, who had been pitching for the Janesville team, was taken out of the box and Viney showed in. The change in the Monroe bats only one run, while the Rails jacked themselves up and added runs after run until it looked as if they were about to nose ahead.

The fight was highly interesting and was marred only by wet grounds. It was halted in the seventh inning to permit the celebration to go on.

THE DIARY OF AN ENGAGED GIRL

LINDSEY CHAFES AT CONVENTIONS THAT HOLD AN ENGAGED GIRL IN.

July 6.—At "Hope Harbor," Long Island. "Perfect day, perfect peace, perfect quiet, the trees with brooklets running under the trees with the friends one loves best. Here I lie luxuriously in a hammock, looking out lazily at the blue waters of the Sound, which sleepily drifts from me.

Aunt Cecilia is stretched out on the grass and is lost in the clouds.

Jean and Dory are foolishly making beds.

This is an ideal spot for kindred spirits to gather in. Far enough away from New York to be a retreat for the spirit, and yet near enough to get in when it is most necessary.

The little cot is almost in the water, or rather just a few feet from the beach, and the beach at this point, by the way, is free from all the low-lying low.

for not a mile. Can you imagine what bliss that spells to us?

There are three diminutive bed-rooms and a porch that goes all round the house. We sleep on the lower, and yet near enough to get in when it is most necessary.

Aunt Cecilia and a friend were writing yesterday morning, and were writing when I came. I assure you, Jean and Dory have been here for nearly two weeks, and look the better for it.

Jean is really contemplating matrimony within the next few weeks, unless Providence in the form of a lover's quaint interferences. She expects her for the week-end. He will put up at a hotel fairly near here and take his meals with us.

Everyone is in radiant spirits.

I fancy it is because for a few hours we are all free. Now do how you understand me. Of course we are all anxious about fiancees and all that, but there is a charm like unto nothing else in chums getting together under one roof and above all else—being alone together.

We have planned three days of absolute rest for ourselves. No house-work, and not even any painting, unless we are particularly smitten with some super-lovely spot or other. Jack is also expected here for the weekend, and maybe before. So we are going to have the best of our little holidays. I can tell you, Jean says that they wouldn't be at all surprised if they all showed up long before Saturday, but we should work.

At the present moment, however, is nothing to do but sit and gaze into space, and in a charming occupation for a girl on a lazy morning.

The victrola is waltzing "The Venetian Moon" to me, and it takes me back to the night Prince Charming and I danced it together, forgetful of the world.

I wonder where he is at this moment, and if he has quite forgotten me. If I had my way I should have Brix and Prince Charming and Cecil down on Saturday, as well as with Maybo if I spent some time with each of the three first mentioned.

I much appreciate my fiance more, however, all of these men love me. And I do hot, nor ever will understand just why it is that Society forbids anyone but a fiancée to write to a girl, when she is once engaged.

It is funny, all night after she is married, but until then it seems to me that she should be considered as a free lance, right to the end, have no hand in making the laws, etc.

Nothing to do, my theories are there is nothing to do, present but considerate of the fact that she is in favor now, and laugh at them up my sleeve, as many others do. A time will come when things will be different. That is one consoling thought.

MANY SOURCES OF COPRA

While the Philippines have become large as an exporter of copra and coconut oil, the market is a prominent one among other oriental countries. Some of the best copra in the world comes from the Malabar coast in India, and although prepared by native methods, great care is exercised in choosing the nuts and in ripening them with care, or more on platforms. When the nuts are dried by this process, practically all water is eliminated and the meat comes out white and in good condition.

The Mystery of Hartley House

By CLIFFORD S. RAYMOND

(Copyright by George H. Doran Co.)

It seldom was a matter of sobriety or insobriety with him. He was most intoxicated. He was most quiet at times when he was quite sober. At other times he was quite sober, but he was quite reversed this. One never knew from his physical condition what his disposition might be at the time.

He served at dinner when Mrs. Sidney, Isobel and I most comfortably than we ever dined. Courteous and amiable manners pleased Mrs. Sidney and he liked to know that in some respects the baronial character of his place was being maintained as he would have maintained it if he had been active.

Isobel's view of our engagement was purely comic. She may have had a second of spiritual revolt, but comedy and consideration of her mother asserted themselves. Mrs. Sidney then said to Isobel of the engagement and me present. The woman was really embarrassed, almost flustered, but she was determined. Isobel was greatly amused.

It may be imagined that I was not heroic. I might better have been a wax figure, but I was a good enough.

I felt the only thing with a

"Not a soul," I said, "—except Miss Sidney."

"I would not cause pain," said Mrs. Sidney. "Are you sure there is no one?"

"Mrs. Sidney," I said, "you are the only lady who ever has given me a thought since I knew my mother. I am merely wondering what Miss Sidney will think of me in such a role. Will she understand why I take it? I am not hesitating, how I do not seem to be. You know I suspect that your decision is soon."

"Isobel's affection for us is greater than her demand for independence," said Mrs. Sidney. "If she knows that I asked you to consent to this announcement, she will think of you as the only one."

I had suggested all the precautions that were reasonable. "You certainly may make any use of me you want to," I said. She thanked me and said good night.

"I'm a resolute man," Jed was saying. "I'll have my own way. I'll have what you'll give me. I'll make you glad to come to terms. I'm a reasonable man, too. Now, admit that I've been considerate."

I started to get out of hearing, as quietly and rapidly as I could, but I heard Mrs. Sidney's voice vibrant with indignation. "My—

Hornsby Whangs Out 100th Hit; Ruth Climbing Averages Ladder

Chicago.—Roger Hornsby, the St. Louis star, bashed out his 100th hit of the season in Wednesday's game against Cincinnati, the first player in the National League to touch the century mark. Hornsby slipped slightly in his hitting, but continues to hold a comfortable lead among the regulars who have participated in 35 or more games. The St. Louis crack is topping the hitters with an average of .388, which was made in 65 games in which he was at bat 263 times. His total base mark of 157 is the highest in the league and includes nineteen doubles, ten triples and six homers. In addition to this record the St. Louis favorite is sharing run-scoring honors with Max Flack of Chicago. Each has registered 46 times.

Chicago.—Clyde Best Stealer, C. Williams, the Philadelphia outfielder, has made another home which gave him eight, and Robertson, Chicago, who was sharing honors with Hornsby last week as runner-up to the elongated outfielder, also belted a circuit drive, breaking the tie with the St. Louis star and placing himself one behind.

Williams' record is 23, the catchers and pitchers seem unable to stop Max Carey, the fleet-footed Pittsburgher, on the paths.

He is showing the way to the base stealer with 15 thefts.

Other leading batters: E. Smith, New York, .364; Nicholson, Pittsburgh, .337; Robertson, Chicago, .332; Dauber, Cincinnati, .325; Williams, Philadelphia, .325; Cruise, Boston, .322; Roush, Cincinnati, .321; Kelly, New York, .319; Hayes, Brooklyn, .318; Flack, Chicago, .313.

The batting of "Babe" Ruth, the home run king of the New York club, continues to be the chief topic in the American League. The big southpaw slugger bagged a brace of home runs in the opening game of Philadelphia last Wednesday, which gave him a total of 34, only five behind the world's record which he made last year. In addition to cracking out home runs Ruth is exceeding hitting to the top among the batters of the league who have participated in 30 or more games. The big fellow is hitting .374, just 20 points behind this Speaker, Cleveland, and Joe Jackson, Chicago, who are sharing the honors of runners-up. George Keler, the St. Louis star, who is bat .412, Speaker and Jackson are hitting .394.

Beth, besides his bunting prowess, is out for other honors. He has had 100 speakers, the Cleveland manager, in number of runs scored, last has registered 62.

Ruth's record is 20, the past week and is far out in front among the base stealers with 30 thefts. His nearest rival is Roth, a team mate, who has stolen 19 bases.

Other leading batters: Weaver, .358; Allen, Washington, .355; Johnston, Cleveland, .355; Rice, Washington, .350; Felsch, Chicago, .348; Judge, Washington, .338; Geddes, St. Louis, .322; E. Collins, Chicago, .331.

Ben Tincup, Louisville's Indian pitcher, suffered a batting stump during the past week and as a result is now 17 points ahead of Del Gainer, the Milwaukee first baseman, who is hitting .386. Tincup's average is .402.

Hargrove, St. Paul, cracked out another homer during the past week, and has 10 to the tie which he held last week with Bunny Brett, Kansas City. Hargrove has eight circuit drives to his credit while Brett has seven.

Rapp and Duggan, the St. Paul team mates, are making a close race for base stealing honors, the former having pilfered 26 sacks to the latter's 25.

Other leading batters: Hartley, Columbus, .370; Wickland, Toledo, .367; Wade, Minneapolis, .364; Eutaw, St. Louis at Detroit, .363; last week with Brett, Kansas City, .327; and Columbus, .323; Dunn, St. Paul, .323; Sweeney, Kansas City, .318.

GRAIN

Chicago Review.
Chicago, July 6.—Excellent weather continued to lead to decided weaknesses today in the corn market.
Besides crop reports were being traded appeared somewhat nervous, however, and the possibility of a certain amount black rust in the spring wheat belt. Opening prices, which ranged from 15c to 30c, then went up to 16c to 26c, and December 15c to 16c, were followed by a moderate rally and then by a fall to well under the initial figure.

Corn, sympathized with the weakness in corn, but were steadied as a result of buying on the part of secondary interests. October, 15c to 16c; December, 14c to 15c; the market sagged a little more, and then made a nearly complete recovery.

Commodities were heavy and sharply lower.

Later, a severe break in prices took place, owing to heavy competition by discreet holders. Then shorts covered freely and a reaction follows-ed. The close was unsettled, 15c to 15c 1/2 net, over 15c, and December
14c 1/2 net. Chicago, $1.50 1/2;

FINANCE

Wall Street Review.

New York, July 6.—The market broadened and increased during the day, the turnover for the first fortnight. Independent stocks, minor specialties and foreign securities up to 4 to 5 points. Conspicuous features included Crucible, Re-
plogle, Stremers-Carborundum,
Pittsburgh and other industrial securities.
These were the only standard issues to show no appreciable change. Last Saturday's clearing house statement disclosing another large gain in commodities caused that money market a trifling, call and opening at 9 per cent. Arrival of additional gold from Europe, however, no change in rates or commodity prices.

Resumption of trading in the stock market after the prolonged recess was marked by a general advance of stocks and a rise in the average of stocks and prices. The outcome of the democratic national convention failed to play no part in the operations of the market, which was in the oil, equipments and machinery, Pan-American and Mexican commodities, Baldwin Locomotive, Cleveland Marine, preference stocks and bonds were higher by large fractions to a point. The only back-to-back issues of importance were Ciu-pital and Union Pacific.

W. A. McAdoo, of American Wool and Industrial, was added to the further advances of the last week. The market was strong.

Better Banking Service

It has always been the aim of this bank to give the best banking service. This desire now finds a more complete expression in our handsome, spacious and efficient structure which is the last word in bank construction. The interior arrangement is one of beauty and utility. We want everyone to see it, so are accordingly extending this public invitation to attend the opening of our new building "The White Bank" on Wednesday, July 7th, from 3 p. m. to 9:30 p. m.

A brief resume of the growth of The Merchants and Savings Bank might not be amiss here. Organized in 1875, nearly fifty years ago, with a capital of $50,000, the capital was increased in 1909, owing to the enlarged business, to $100,000 and in 1919 the capital stock was increased to $300,000, fully paid in. At the close of business on May 4th, 1920, the total assets of the bank were $3,876,951.06.

Such a growth has not been the result of chance but is due to the careful, conservative transaction of all business and the unfailing courtesy and service which has always characterized this bank. The public have come to know that the Merchants & Savings Bank is their bank and that its officers are there to please them. This bank has always enjoyed this confidence from its customers, since 1875.

In selecting a bank with which to do business, you should know these things, all of which apply to The Merchants & Savings Bank: First, that the bank has ample capital and is financially strong. Second, that the officers of the bank are capable men, of sound business judgment and experience. Third, these officers are courteous, obliging, capable, willing and glad to aid you in matters financial.

Come and visit us in our new home on Wednesday. Get acquainted with our officers and plan to make use of the facilities of this modern bank. Your account for either our checking or savings department is solicited. May we not count on you as one of our patrons as well as one of our friends? The open house hours will be from 3 p. m. to 9:30 p. m. tomorrow and we sincerely hope you will pay us a visit.
